Bucher Emhart Glass offers Laser Marking System “ID Mark”

Emhart Glass took over the laser marking business for hot glass containers from Qualimarq, the pioneer and leading manufacturer with over 100 installations worldwide. Herewith, Bucher Emhart Glass will offer the most advanced hot end laser marking system under the product name “ID Mark”.

The “ID Mark” system will be an integral part for the End to End strategy but it will also be available as a stand-alone system. For both cases the marking of the container allows further value creation along the value chain for glass producers, fillers and end consumers.

The new ID Mark will be available through Bucher Emhart Glass with immediate effect.
